INJUNCTION IS ARGUED BEFORE JUDGE EDWARDS

Writ Prohibiting Clamming Attacked In Court Hearing

Howard Tompkins of this city appeared before Judge Harry Edwards in the Circuit Court this morning, where he was cited for contempt in an injunction proceeding granted by Judge Harry L. Heer in 1931, which prohibited clamming on that section of Rock river adjoining the Pave farm. Tompkins was represented by Attorney Mark C. Keller while Attorney Grover Gehant appeared for Joseph Laidig and Harold Edous, both of Dixon, who were named in the petition. Attorney Albert Hanneken of this city and Charles Linscott of Rockford appeared for William Page.

The arguments consumed the larger part of the morning and about 25 clammers listened attentively to the proceeding, which is brought to set aside the injunction on the grounds that it was improperly drawn and addressed to a court without jurisdiction. The petition was drawn by the late Attorney H. A. Brooks and the injunction granted by Judge Heer at Galeta. The attorneys were accused that the petition was improperly drawn but lengthy arguments were presented to the court on other features.

Claims Right In State
Former State's Attorney Keller argued that the ownership of fish and clams in Rock river, a navigable stream, was held by the state of Illinois and that his client possessed a valid license from the state to take clams from Rock river. He also argued that the bill sought no relief for the complainant and asked that the petition be denied and dismissed. Practically the same pleadings were offered by Attorney Gehant representing Laidig and Edous.

Attorney Linscott, in addressing the court admitted certain clerical errors in the original instrument but argued that the license granted by the state did not permit trespass. Attorney Hanneken cited several opinions to the court and in his argument held that the consent of the land owner was necessary before a state license applied.

Judge Edwards in reply to the counsel stated that the bill was woefully deficient, was inappropiately drawn and addressed to the wholly without jurisdiction, the prayer being defective but subject to amendment. He held, however, that the appearance of the defendants by counsel, was a waiver of these defects, and that Tompkins did not appear for a party in the bill. The hearing at this point was halted and continued until next Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

Baked clams, steamed clams, clam chowder, fried chicken, roasted ears, sweet potatoes and many more items are planned for the bill of fare and the committee is arranging to feed a crowd of 5,000 visitors. Another committee is busily engaged in outlining a program of entertainment features.

Wheat opened sharply higher and for a time soared at the rate of a cent a minute. The May delivery touched $1.23 1/2, the highest in many

GUARDS PLACED OVER SCORES OF RICH CHICAGOANS

Action Is Taken Under Direction Of U. S. Government

Chicago, July 15—(AP)—Nearly half a hundred wealthy Chicago residents today were reported under guard and state troopers and city police were patrolling their homes to prevent their abduction by kidnapers.

The Chicago Tribune said the action was taken by the federal government after John Factor, the speculator, released recently by abductors after paying a $50,000 ransom, told of a book of prospects kept by his kidnapers and their business-like organization.

Although a full list of the men being guarded was not revealed by the government agents, the newspaper said the names of Arthur Cullen, grain trader, was included. Another was John Hertz, sportsman, who said the day and night guard at his home was placed there at the request of the government. Hertz said he did not ask for the guards and had never received threats, but was willing to cooperate.

Seek Tough Gangsters
Still working on the theory that the Tenney gang was responsible for the Factor kidnaping, the newspaper said authorities were scouring Cook county for five men believed to be associated with the hoodlums. They are Lawrence Mangano, Carl Fontana, Ernie Rossi, Charles O'Leary and Charles Brown. In addition, the newspaper said "Two Gun Louie" Alterie was wanted.

The Tribune said the federal agents considered as important Factor's imprisonment in a basement, the night of his abduction and his statement that his captors told him "I was not the first man to be held in that basement, and that I would not be the last."

Factor said they told him they had a list of the men they were going to take and that every one of them would pay. "This is our business," Factor said one of the men told him, "and it is." (Continued on Page 2)

BROOKLYN PAIR NABBED AS THEY FELL INTO TRAP

Alton Banker And N. Y. Militia Lieutenant Are Still Missing

New York, July 15—(AP)—An attempt of two men to obtain $10,000 from Dr. Jacob Wachman, a wealthy Brooklyn physician, under threat of kidnaping, failed today when Brooklyn police officers speedily apprehended them after they had collected a dummy package of bills.

The arrested pair, who surrendered when police opened fire on their automobile, were booked as Michael Discolo, New York, and Vincent Mosci, Brooklyn.

Tipped off by the intended victim, police were lying in wait at the corner of Sixth Avenue and 47th Street in Brooklyn when two men accosted Wachman, according to schedule and information given Wachman previously in a telephone warning.

Snatching the dummy bundle from Wachman, the pair fled in their car when they saw they were surrounded by police. The chase lasted only two blocks, ending when officers opened fire from a pursuing police car.

Alton Men Say They've Good News

Alton, Ill., July 15—(AP)—Agents negotiating for release of August Luer, 77-year-old banker, kidnaped five days ago, announced today "good news" had been received.

Asked if this meant the agents had received a ransom note containing a message from the aged banker, they replied, "that's a good suggestion," but refused to amplify the statement.

Last night unexplained motor trips were made by relatives, giving rise to rumors that his release was near.

Indications were that Lawrence Keller, Jr., and Orville S. Catt, the official negotiators, had not made a personal contact with the abductors.

Yesterday in their last formal statement, they said several demand notes had been received. (Continued on Page 2)

Two Local Youths Held For Theft Of Auto Here; Captured In Rockford

The theft of an Oakland sedan from Second street just east of Ottawa avenue last night about 10:30, resulted in the apprehension of John Hasselman and Lloyd Moore of this city by Rockford police at midnight as the pair drove into Rockford on state highway route 2. Sighting the police car, the Dixonites sped ahead and the officers observed an object thrown from the speeding machine. This was recovered and developed to be a .32 caliber revolver, minus the chamber. After the speeding car was halted the missing chamber was found in the stolen machine, together with a rifle and a blindfold.

The stolen car was the property of C. E. Mossholder of this city, who had parked his machine on Second street opposite the Elks club early in the evening. He discovered the loss about 11:30 and immediately notified the police.

Chief Van Bibber telephoned police of several surrounding towns and as Hasselman and Moore drove into Rockford, a police squad was waiting at the west edge of the city.

Moore is said to have given the name of James Ryan when taken to the Rockford police station. Word of the capture of the pair and the recovery of the car reached local police early this morning and Chief

Post Attempts A Solo Flight of World: Two Fly Minus Permission

Oklahoman Off In An Elaborate Plane—

Torrey, Newfoundland, July 15—(AP)—Wiley Post, 35-year-old Oklahoman took off from Floyd Bennett Field at 12:10 P. M., CST, toward Europe at 12:10 P. M., CST. If Post maintains the pace he started he will reach Berlin sometime between 4 A. M. and noon Sunday.

Pair Is Facing "Spanking" Abroad—

New York, July 15—(AP)—The monoplane Lithuanica took off on a projected 4,900 mile non-stop flight to Lithuania today, without approval of the American government and with the prospect of the two pilots subjecting themselves to a "spanking" if they should land in any country short of their goal. The plane, which left Floyd Bennett Field at 4:24 A. M., CST, was flown by Stephen Darius and Stanley Girenas, Lithuanian-Americans from Chicago.

They took off just an hour and 14 minutes after Wiley Post, had begun his solo world flight, from the same field.

Darius and Girenas have been in altercation with official Washington about permits to fly over countries between America and Lithuania and left without obtaining these permits. The argument had centered about the question of who should pay $100 for cost of cables to the countries in "spanking."

The fliers took off without informing field officials of their intention and a Commerce Department official in Washington said, when informed of their action, that if they should land in some country on their route it would not only be embarrassing to the American government but would also make the fliers subject to a "spanking" by that country.

The big orange and silver Bellanca monoplane was loaded to capacity with 779 gallons of gasoline, 135 of which were in 5-gallon cans, and 25 gallons of oil. It bore the markings NR688E.

The fliers did not sign the register at the field, and Maj. J. Nelson, manager, was not informed that they were hopping the Atlantic.

The takeoff was loggy. They used every foot of the long runway and were so slow in getting away that the crowd gasped.

Made "Game Takeoff"
"It was a game takeoff," said the flying experts assembled. "They should have dumped gas to play safe. But they didn't."

When the plane passed out of sight, headed east, the ship still had not attained more than 200 feet altitude.

Field officials say they are subject to a heavy fine and loss of license if they do not return today to Floyd Bennett, and furthermore, are subject to arrest in any country in which they land since they have no passports.

Captain Darius was born in Taurage, Lithuania, and was brought to the United States when 10 years old. His mother is Mrs. Augustine Degutis of Chicago.

Darius was tutored in Lithuania, then attended grade school in Elizabeth, N. J., West Pullman Junior High School, Chicago, and later Harrison Tech and Lane Junior College there.

Darius War Hero
He enlisted in the First Illinois Field Artillery, later federalized as the 149th Field Artillery, April 12, 1917, six days after the United States declared war. He received a regimental citation for "habitual bravery under fire" and was wounded in the chest by a fragment of a high explosive shell at the second battle of the Marne.

For this wound he received veterans' compensation and further education at the University of Chicago.

Entering the Air Corps of Lithuania in 1921 he rose to the rank of Captain.

Returning to the United States, he opened, in 1928, an aviation school at South Bend, Ind.

The Lithuanica is the plane he flew during 1929, 1930, and 1931 for the Chicago Daily News. Aided by subscriptions from many Lithuanian-Americans he bought it from the News and rechristened it.

Girenas, who like his partner is unmarried, is an orphan whose home in Chicago. He was born in Upiuna, Lithuania, came to the United States when seven, and went to work in Chicago when he finished grammar school. He is a war veteran and operated an aviation school in Chicago until 1931.

The world's most powerful light-house is at Mont Afrique, France. It is visible for 300 miles on a clear night.

BALBO'S ARMADA DUE IN CITY IN MID-AFTERNOON

Left Montreal On Final Lap Middle Of The Morning

BULLETIN
Port Huron, Mich., July 15—(AP)—Twelve of General Italo Balbo's 24 seaplanes passed over this city at 1:50 P. M. CST, today, headed apparently for Detroit.

Montreal, July 15—(AP)—Off for Chicago and The Century of Progress Exposition that they have come all the way from Italy to visit, 24 Italian twin-engined flying boats took off from the St. Lawrence river in Montreal harbor today and headed west for the Great Lakes.

General Italo Balbo, Italy's 35-year-old Minister of Aviation, led his airmen out of Montreal, lifting his first flagship off the water at 9:14 A. M. CST, while steamboat sirens blared a farewell.

The planes took off in groups of three, spaced a few moments apart. As each triad got into the air, another three cast loose from their moorings, taxied downstream, turned into the wind and roared over the surface in a smother of foam to rise smoothly into the air.

Ambassador Aboard
They were all off the water and away for Chicago at 10:09 A. M. In the flagship as a passenger was Augusto Rosso, Italian Ambassador at Washington, who hurried to Montreal to make the trip. His train was late and the start was delayed while General Balbo met him at the station and rushed him by automobile to the harbor.

A small band of Fascisti gave the departing Italians three cheers while a trumpeter sounded a farewell salute.

Before leaving, General Balbo announced that his course over Toronto, Buffalo and Toledo, a distance of about 850 miles, would be covered in between 6 and 7 hours.

Welcome Waiting
Chicago, July 15—(AP)—Thousands of Chicagoans picked up on the lake front today, waiting for hours to welcome General Italo Balbo and his 69 fellow Italian airmen at the end of their trans-Atlantic flight.

The city and the World's Fair devoted all their energies toward making the day a municipal bathing beach near the pier was crowded. Scores of boats—ranging from a Coast Guard gunboat to yachts and motorboats—dotted the water.

Every seat in Soldier Field was expected to be taken by World's Fair visitors. Groups of early arrivals had found choice sections of the stadium before noon.

The most elaborate policing arrangements ever made in Chicago for such an event were in readiness to protect the 24 seaplanes from souvenir hunters and the fliers themselves from over-zealous well-wishers.

Officials said there was little possibility of an anti-Fascist demonstration, of which there were rumors several weeks ago.

Dixon Legion To Hold Stag Picnic

Announcement was made today by the picnic committee of Dixon Post No. 12, American Legion, that the "stag" picnic set for Sunday July 23 will be held at the Schoenholz cottages at the south end of the Grand Detour bridge. The spot is easily accessible and provides ample room for all kind of sports, baseball and horseshoe pitching, etc. and the committee is hoping for the support of all ex-service men in making the affair a huge success. All friends of the Legion are invited to spend the day at the picnic.

Pearsall Boy, Stricken While Mother Lay Dying, Follows Her In Death; Double Funeral Monday

Stricken with appendicitis Wednesday as his mother, formerly Miss Elizabeth Raymond of Dixon, lay dying in Billings Memorial hospital, Chicago, and rushed to an Elgin hospital for an operation a few hours after she passed away Thursday morning, Thomas Richard Pearsall, aged 4, followed her to eternal rest yesterday, and because his death, following that of his mother, caused the collapse of the grief-stricken husband and father, Richard D. Pearsall, postponement of the funeral of Mrs. Pearsall from this afternoon was necessary.

News of the double tragedy is a distinct shock to the family's many friends in Dixon who had followed Mrs. Pearsall's futile fight for life with solicitude, and their condolence is extended the bereaved husband and father.

Word received today from Elgin, to which city Mrs. Pearsall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Raymond, went yesterday, is to the effect that a double funeral service for mother and son will be held at the Norris funeral chapel in Elgin at 1:30 o'clock, Dixon time, Monday afternoon.

Vernon Zimmerman Is Stricken While At His Work

Vernon O. Zimmerman, 63, yard clerk for the C. & N. Mr. Zimmerman had not been in ill health nor complaining. A short time before he had gone to the bank, returned, and after passing from the freight office to the warehouse, resumed his work of recording. His last entry was "C. & N. W. 124,302; last seal number 2,720,355."

Seven lines below was a faint scrawl, as the stroke came to him, then a line below was a heavy zigzag movement of the pencil as the weight of his body was thrown against the writing arm.

THE DEAD

(From the German of Klopstock)
How they do softly rest,
And, all the holy dead,
Unto whose holy dwelling-
place
Now doth my soul draw near!
How they do softly rest,
All in their silent graves,
Deep to corruption
Slowly down-sinking!

And they no longer weep,
Here, where complaint is still!
And they no longer feel,
Here, where all gladness flies!
And, by the cypresses
Softly o'er-shadowed,
Calls them, they slumber!

Roast Beef and Browned Potatoes
5 pound rib roast
2 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
1-2 cup water
6 peeled potatoes

Place roast in roasting pan. Sprinkle with 1-2 the salt, the paprika and flour. Bake 20 minutes in hot oven in uncovered pan. Add water, cover with lid and bake 50 minutes. Add potatoes, sprinkle them with remaining salt and roast 45 minutes. If "well done" beef is desired roast 20 minutes more. Turn potatoes several times to allow even browning.

After removing roast and potatoes from pan, make gravy by adding 3 tablespoons of flour mixed with 1-2 cup of water to meat stock, boil 2 minutes. If gravy is too thick add more water to pan, during cooking of gravy.

Fruit Sherbet

1 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
1-3 cup lemon juice
1 cup grape juice
1-2 cups milk

Mix sugar and fruit juices, slowly add milk, pour into tray in mechanical refrigerator. Remove pan twice during first hour and beat well each time. This beating aids in emulsifying the mixture from crystallizing.

The sherbet may be frozen by the regular freezer method.

Sponge Cake

6 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
1 cup pastry flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
6 egg whites, beaten
1-8 teaspoon salt

A Cold Plate to Warm the Heart of Any Epicure!

Beef Loaf a la New England Simply Made

Delicious When Served With Crisp Salad

By NEA Service—

The appearance of food is all important when hot days sit right down on top of you.

An appealing cold plate will tempt the most harassed person to take a bite. Serve one that is just a little different and your praises will ring in your ears.

Cold sliced beef loaf, served with a combination salad, is simply plecty itself when it comes to preparing, but a meal that few folks seem to think of. This is how you make New England beef loaf.

To 2 pounds of chopped lean beef — preferably bottom round steak, add 1 tablespoonful of chopped parsley, the grated rind of one lemon, 1 egg, 1-2 teaspoonful of grated onion 1 teaspoonful of salt, 1-4 teaspoonful pepper, a dash of nutmeg and 4 slices of fat salt pork (about 1-4 pounds) well chopped.

Mix the ingredients thoroughly. Put them in a deep baking pan and cook about 30 minutes in a medium oven.

Beef loaf, served hot with brown gravy, is equally as delicious as it is when sliced cold and served with a summer salad.

Put your salad and your meat loaf right on the dinner plates.

Salads are a boon to the home-maker. They can be prepared in the cool of the morning, kept on ice until lunch or dinner time and served with a minimum of effort.

Be sure that your lettuce is very crisp and that the salad bowl or the dinner plates are ice cold. Many a delicious salad has been ruined by being served on lukewarm plates.

Tomatoes, cucumbers, rings of green pepper, green onions, chick-ory, endive, radishes, and any number of other fresh vegetables can be used on the platter in conjunction with the meat loaf.

You can give your family a choice of mayonnaise or French dressing.

TURNING ON THE LIGHT IN WASHINGTON.

Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the government's recovery machinery, promises that this tremendously important new experiment is going to take place "in a goldfish bowl."

Industrialists who devise a code for their plants must get up where everybody can see and hear them to explain just what they believe about working hours, wages, profits, prices and the like.

This is perhaps the most wholesome part of all the "new deal."

It means that the hush-hush days at Washington are over. The lobbyist who tiptoes about the corridors, lurks in the shadows of the capitol pillars, buttonholes congressmen on the quiet and talks softly in the privacy of a bureaucaut's office—he has stepped out into the open, now, and all that he says and does takes place in the brightness of the spotlight.

That, anyhow, is the theory. But some of the big boys don't seem to have heard about it yet.

Washington correspondents reported that old-style lobbyists swarmed all over the capital during the last session of Congress. A sizable army of them still remains there. They are trying to work in the traditional manner; making deals, putting on the fix, applying pressure, trading favors, exerting pull, exercising all of the old tricks.

If anything is obvious, it is that the time for this sort of thing is past.

What the big business man, the financier and the company director do nowadays is strictly the public's business. The country is embarking on a vast new experiment in economics, and it has a right to know which of its business leaders are going to play ball and which are trying to drop a monkey wrench in the machinery.

General Johnson's goldfish bowl is the only place in which lobbying can be tolerated now. Any business group that objects to what is being done is entitled to state its case there. It has every right to voice its objections and to argue for special consideration—so long as it does it openly, where all of us can hear. It has no right whatever to do it under cover, in the privacy of someone's inner office.

The group that continues to maintain the old-style lobby by now convicts itself, automatically, of a complete misunderstanding of the spirit and purpose of the "new deal."

THE "HIT-SKIP" DRIVER.

Every newspaper in every city in America has occasion every so often to record the activities of the "hit-skip" motorist—the driver who hits a pedestrian or another car and then speeds away without stopping to make his identity known or to see how much damage he has caused.

And every case of that kind emphasizes anew the need for a strict license code and an adequate highway patrol under which it would be possible, first, to catch such drivers, and second, to rule them permanently off the road.

The driver who fails to stop after an accident proves that he is not to be trusted on the highways with a car. If we are ever to cut down our shocking toll of motor accidents we must find some effective way of getting the "hit-skip" chap out from behind the steering wheel for good.

AN EXAMPLE FOR EUROPE.

President Roosevelt's comment on his arrival at Campobello Island, just across the Canadian border—that Norman Davis should tell the disarmament delegates at Geneva just what an unfortified international border looks like—is one which all citizens of the United States and Canada can endorse.

That long border, when you stop to think about it, is one of the most remarkable things in all the world. Not a fort, not a warship, not a cavalry patrol from one end of it to the other; not one citizen in either land who feels the slightest need for such things; was there ever, in all history, an example of international neighborliness like this?

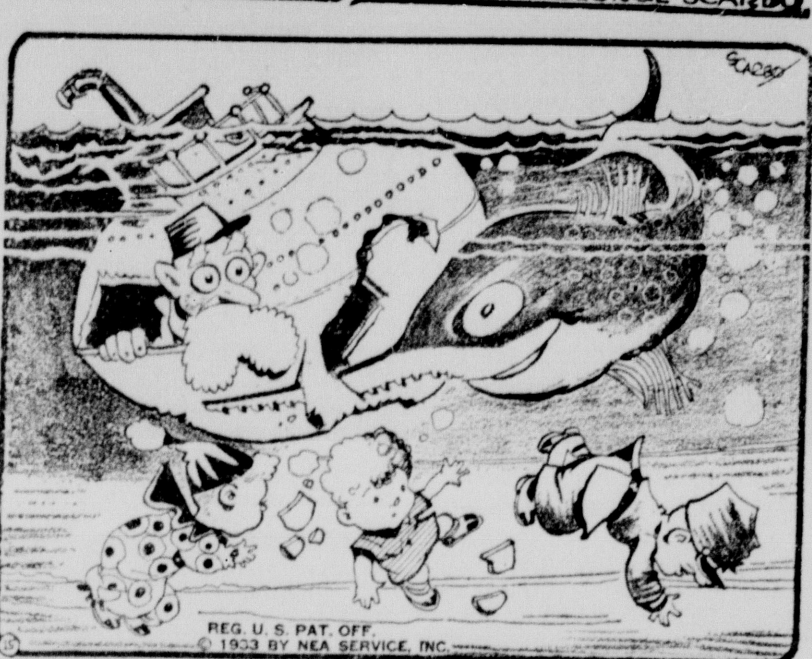

To be sure, the United States and Canada have had their differences. They have even, in the dim past, gone to war with one another. But they have learned how to settle everything peaceably, and their example is a shining light that other nations might very profitably try to copy.

One-third of our divorcees now re-marry. Re-marriage should be limited to annulments obtained on grounds existing at the time of marriage.—Clarence E. Martin, president American Bar Association.

While Congress is in session, more good speaking and more bad speaking may be heard there than in any other place in the country.—Prof. W. H. Yeager, George Washington University.

I think you will find that proper teaching of temperance is the one point on which wets and dries are united.—Dr. Daniel A. Poling, dry leader.

American leaders inherited too much of the spirit of their ancestors to sit idly by and watch their country overthrown by economic factors that may be controlled by human forces.—Jesse I. Straus, U. S. ambassador to France.

The Tynmites eyed the big submarine and Duncy said, "Gee, I'm not keen to go far down into the sea in that queer looking ship."

"A great big fish might get us. Then we'd all be in a fix again. We thank you, Shrimpy, but I think we must pass up this trip."

"Hey, wait a minute," Shrimpy cried. "Don't think I am going to miss the ride. If you're afraid, you stay on shore. The rest of us will go."

The next thing that the Tynmites knew was Duncy said, "Oh, I'll go, too. I am scared I will get lost unless I go wherever you go."

"That's dandy," shouted Shrimpy. "I simply love good company. You all have looked around the ship. Now find a place to rest."

"I'll shut the top down good and tight, so everything will be all right. I'm going to give you a little thrill. At least I'll do my best."

In just about five minutes more the Tynmites heard a rolling roar.

"We are off!" exclaimed strange Shrimpy. "To the land of fish we are bound. It won't be long till you will see some real strange sights. Leave that to me. It's really an amazing thing what queer things can be found."

Soon they all heard a thump, thump, thump! Then Shrimpy said, "I felt a bump." "We are on the bottom of the sea," their new friend Shrimpy cried.

"I think that something's gone amiss to make my fine sub shake like this," Then Duncy said, "Oh, gee, I hope that it won't spoil our ride."

They soon found what the trouble was and they were all quite scared because a swordfish sawd right through the sub. "What can we do?" cried one.

Wee Shrimpy answered, "Follow me! Jump out of here, into the sea. I'll promise you you'll be all right. It will be lots of fun."

(The swordfish is punished in the next story.)

HEAD OF THE TABLE

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

A fine old Scotch story tells of a too modest guest at a Highland banquet. He kept refusing to sit in the place of honor, until his host, looking patience, said plainly: "Sit where I tell you! Dinna ye ken that wherever Lochiel sits, that's the head of the table?"

A lady arrived too late at church when the late Dr. Van Dyke was preaching, and found every pew taken. An usher offered her a seat on the pulpit stairs, but she hesitated: "Won't I be conspicuous?" The usher replied, "No, madame; nobody is conspicuous when a great preacher is in the pulpit. It is quite safe to sit on the pulpit stairs."

A friend of mine was a hod-carrier when I first met him, honest, unassuming, hard-working. When he died he was one of the great orators of America able to hold an audience in the hollow of his hand, as if under a spell, for two hours and more, as I have seen him do. During twenty years I saw his life unfold like a flower, and an ordinary man became extraordinary in his power and charm. It was thrilling to me.

No one can tell in what such power consists, least of all those who possess it. It is an indefinable quality which, like magic, gives some people an unexplained ascendancy over us. It is what we mean when we say that a person has personality, or does not have it. But what is personality? Nobody knows; it is just a word for a mystery.

But one thing I do know about it. My hod-carrier friend, who became so unusual in his power of persuasion, was made great by devoting himself to a great cause. A great faith, a great purpose, a great love drew out the lines of his life. Until we get out of ourselves, and lose our lives in something greater than ourselves we cannot do great work.

Great, oratory, great music, great living make up great individuals but collectively great. A brilliant talker or a vital personality may catch our vanities and make us seem of no account; but they also embody our dream of beauty and power and graciousness of soul. All familiar things they touch become like forms of a diviner world.

JIMMIE FOXX IS SETTING PACE IN RACE OF HITTERS

His Steady Slugging Is Feature Of Week In Major Leagues

New York, July 15—(AP)—The continued steady hitting of Jimmie Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics overshadowed batting performances of other leaders in the major leagues during the week.

Foxx pounded out 12 hits in 32 times at bat to boost his average six points to .374 after yesterday's games and gain clear title to the American League lead.

Al Simmons rapped out 13 hits but required 37 times at bat to get them and dropped two points to .366 while Joe Cronin suffered an equal loss and remained a point behind him.

In the National League, Chuck Klein had "just a breeze" to hold the top place as his two Philadelphia teammates, Spud Davis and Chick Fullis, failed to hold the pace he set. Klein lost a little ground, his average going down three points as he hit safely ten times in 30 tries, but Davis suffered a 13 point loss.

After yesterday's games, Klein had an eleven point lead with 366 to Davis' 355. Fullis, who lost eight points as he made eight hits in 21 attempts, was third at .343. The ten leading batters in each major league follow:

NEW YORK FANS HAVE VISION OF ALL-CITY SERIES

Giants Recovered From Slump: Yanks Climb Up On Senators

By HUGH S. FULLERTON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
The hopes of New York's fans for a world's series on a five cent fare were somewhat brighter today, for the Yankees were back in a virtual tie with Washington for the American League lead while the Giants, recovering from a big slump, had increased their lead in the national to four full games. Both New York teams pounded to victory yesterday, the Yankees bunched seven hits for eight runs in one inning, trounced the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 6 to run their winning streak to seven games and draw to within four percentage points of the Senators. The Giants slugged it out with the St. Louis Cardinals and although outhit, won their third in a row 12-7.

Sox Trounce Senators
Chicago's White Sox and the veteran southpaw, Walter Miller, took care of Washington for the Yankees, defeating the league leaders for the third time in four days, 4 to 0. Miller allowed only three hits and didn't let a runner reach third in scoring his second victory of the series.

The Giants, disposed of the fourth place Cardinals themselves, pounding Dizzy Dean from the hill in the fifth inning while Brooklyn and Boston saw to it that the other first division clubs of the National League, the Cubs and Pittsburgh Pirates, were defeated.

The Dodgers, aided by Chicago errors, scored a 5-3 victory over the Cubs. The game ended Chicago's string of victories at eight and left the Cubs four games behind the Giants. Bud Tinning lost his first game after seven successive victories and the Dodgers won their first game in Chicago since July 12, 1932.

Braves Won In Tenth
Boston's Braves had to go ten innings in a duel between Fred Franks and Larry French before Rabbit Maraville singled in the run that gave them a 4-3 decision.

The Phillies moved safely away from the National League cellar by defeating the Cincinnati Reds 6-0 behind the five hit flinging of Austin Moore.

In the other American League games, the Philadelphia Athletics downed the Indians 3-2 when Bug Miller swatted a home run with two on in the eighth and the Tigers hammered George Pipgras and Johnny Welch of the Boston Red Sox for 13 hits to win 8 to 3.

Forreston Meets Oak Ridge Sunday

The Forreston Merchants baseball team will play Oak Ridge Sunday afternoon at the Ridge diamond. The teams are evenly matched and a good game is assured. Several Dixon players will be seen in action with the Ridge team. Miller and McGrath will form the battery for the Ridgers.
